

IME: In My Experience

Live and write as though no one is looking over your shoulder. It's your life, your story. You can write whatever you like and can choose to be either the hero or the villain of the tale of your time. Don't worry about being judged: the only person you need to please is the one you see in the mirror. Follow your heart and you'll soon discover a herd following you. Steve Reed exhorts us to think and more than that, to be unafraid to write what we think, so that we can better examine our beliefs. And ourselves.
