

Coop Himmelblau

Coop Himmelblau ist keine Farbe, sondern die Idee, Architektur mit Phantasie leicht und veränderbar wie Wolken zu machen. Mit dieser programmatischen Aussage leitete das in Wien gegründete Architektenteam Coop Himmelb(l)au - Wolf D. Prix und Helmut Swiczinsky - 1968 seine Tätigkeit ein. Seitdem praktizieren sie eine provokative Auseinandersetzung mit Architektur: Die inhaltlichen Spannungen eines Ortes werden durch das Durchbrechen des traditionellen Formenkanons spektakular sichtbar gemacht. Zu ihren Bauten, die den internationalen Ruf des Teams begründet haben, gehören der Dachausbau Falkestraße in Wien, der Ostpavillon des Stadtmuseums in Groningen, Niederlande und der aufsehenerregende UFA-Kinopalast in Dresden. Auch die jüngsten Entwürfe repräsentieren ihre Architekturprinzipien: das SEG Apartmenthochhaus in Wien oder der Mega-komplex Cloud #9 in Genf. Das vorliegende Buch stellt am Beispiel der Bauten und Projekte von Coop Himmelb(l)au erstmals den programmatischen Gehalt ihrer Architektur dar.
